Secondary Trading

Daily price indications including accrued interest (dirty) will be published on Reuters, Bloomberg and Telekurs.

No representation is made as to the existence of a market for the Certificates. BNP Paribas Arbitrage S.N.C. will endeavour to make a secondary market in the Certificates, subject to it being satisfied that normal market conditions prevail. Any prices indicated will be dependent upon factors affecting or likely to affect the value of the Certificates such as, but not limited to, the remaining time to the Redemption Date, the outstanding principal amount, the Issuer's or, if applicable, the Guarantor's credit risk, the performance and volatility of the underlying asset, interest rates, exchange rates, credit spreads, and any incidental costs. To the extent BNP Paribas Arbitrage S.N.C. holds Certificates that it can offer and subject to it being satisfied that normal market conditions prevail, such prices will have a bid-offer spread no greater than 1%.

The bid price includes accrued interest.

Swiss Tax Information

The following Swiss tax summary is valid at the time of the issuance of the product.

It is for general information only and does not purport to be a comprehensive description of all Swiss tax consequences that may be relevant to a decision to purchase, own or dispose of the product. Swiss tax laws and the practice of the Swiss tax authorities may change, possibly with retroactive effect. The product is not subject to the Swiss withholding tax.

Swiss Income Tax

This product is classified as transparent, where the majority of the return of the bondpart is in the form of a Bond. Therefore, private investor with tax domicile in Switzerland, is subject to the Swiss Federal Income Tax on the difference between the bondfloor at purchase and the bondfloor at sale or redemption (if denominated in foreign currency these amounts must be converted into CHF by applying the prevailing exchange rate at purchase date and sale or redemption date when applicable). 2. PROSPECTS FOR PROFITS AND LOSSES

Market Expectations

An Express Certificate offers the possibility of an early redemption combined with an attractive yield opportunity. Investors in an Express Certificate expect the Underlying to move sideways or slightly rise, the volatility to decrease and do not expect the underlying to breach the Barrier during the product lifetime.

Profits Prospects

The profit potential is limited to the Interest Amounts.

Loss Prospects

Investors may sustain a loss if an Automatic Early Redemption Event does not occur during the life of the Certificate, but a Knock-in event does and they take delivery of the Underlying Share (paying any costs, fees, expenses or tax associated with the delivery) plus cash in respect of any fractions of Underlying Share. The maximum loss that may therefore be realised is some or all of the amount invested.

In the event that the Certificates are redeemed early as a consequence of force majeure, illegality or certain other events affecting the Underlying(s) and/or hedge, Holders may receive an amount per Certificate equal to the fair market value of each Certificate less the cost to the Issuer and/or its affiliates of unwinding any underlying related hedging arrangements. Such amount may be less than the Notional Amount or even zero.

Risk Tolerance

Holders of this product should be experienced and familiar with both derivative products and the Underlying. Holders must be willing to make an investment that is exposed to the full down-side risk of the Underlying. Holders do not require capital protection.

3. IMPORTANT RISKS

General

An investment in the Certificates involves a high degree of risk, which may include, among others, price risks associated with the Underlying(s), interest rate, foreign exchange, market, time value and political risks.

Potential investors must have the knowledge and experience necessary to enable them to evaluate the risks and merits of an investment in the Certificates. A prospective investor should determine, based on its own independent review and such professional advice (including, without limitation, tax, accounting, credit, legal and regulatory advice) as it deems appropriate under the circumstances, that its acquisition and holding of the Certificates (i) is fully consistent with its financial needs, objectives and condition, (ii) complies and is fully consistent with all investment policies, guidelines and restrictions applicable to it and (iii) is a fit, proper and suitable investment for it, notwithstanding the clear and substantial risks inherent in investing in or holding the Certificates. In making such determination, a prospective investor should consider carefully all the information set forth in the Final Terms and the Base Prospectus.

No Capital Protection

The Certificates are not capital protected at any time. There is a risk of total capital loss, and therefore an investment in the Certificates is highly speculative, involving significant risk, including the possible loss of all of the amount invested, and should therefore only be considered by persons who can afford a loss of all of their investment.

Share Linked Risks

An investment in Certificates linked to a Share entails significant risks not associated with an investment in a conventional debt security. On redemption, Holders will receive an amount (if any) determined by reference to the value of the Underlying and/or the physical delivery of a given number of Share. Accordingly, an investment in the Certificates may bear similar market risks to a direct equity investment and investors should take advice accordingly. The Issuer of the Share will not have participated in the preparation of the Final Terms or in establishing the terms of the Certificates, and none of the Issuer, the Guarantor or any Manager will make any investigation or enquiry in connection with such offering with respect to any information concerning the Share issuer contained in the Final Terms or in the documents from which such information was extracted. Consequently, there can be no assurance that all events occurring prior to the Issue Date will have been publicly disclosed. Subsequent disclosure of any such events or the disclosure of or failure to disclose material future events concerning the Share issuer could affect the trading price of the Share and therefore the trading price of the Certificates. Holders will not have any right of recourse under the Certificates to the Share or the Share issuer.

Early Redemption

The Terms and Conditions in the Base Prospectus provide for early redemption on the occurrence of force majeure, illegality and certain other events affecting the Underlying(s) and/or the hedge, whereupon the Calculation Agent shall calculate the fair market value of each Certificate less the cost to the Issuer and/or its affiliates of unwinding any underlying related hedging arrangements, all as determined by the Calculation Agent in its sole and absolute discretion. Payment will be made in such manner as shall be notified to Holders in accordance with the Condition 10 of the Base Prospectus. The amount Holders receive as a consequence of such early redemption may be less than the Notional Amount per Certificate or even zero.

Holders who choose to reinvest monies received as a consequence of early redemption of the Certificates may be able to do so only in securities with a lower yield than the redeemed Certificates.

Issuer and Guarantor Risk

Certificates are unsecured obligations: The Certificates retention of value is dependent not only on the development of the value of the Underlying(s), but also the creditworthiness of the Issuer and the Guarantor, which may change over the term of the product. The Certificates are direct unsecured obligations of the Issuer and will rank pari passu with all other direct unsecured obligations of the Issuer. The obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantee are unsecured obligations of the Guarantor and will rank pari passu with all its other present and future unsecured obligations, subject as may from time to time be mandatory under French law. In addition, the Issuer's and the Guarantor's ability to fulfil their obligations under the Certificates may be affected by certain other factors, including liquidity risks, market risks, credit risks, cross-border and foreign exchange risks, operational risks, legal and regulatory risks and competition risks.

Possible Illiquidity of the Certificates in the Secondary Market

It is not possible to predict the price at which Certificates will trade in the secondary market. The trading market for the Certificates may be volatile and may be adversely impacted by many events. An active trading market for the Certificates may not develop. The Issuer and/or its affiliates may (but is not obliged to) at any time purchase Certificates in the open market. Any Certificates so purchased may be resold or surrendered for cancellation. To the extent the Certificates are cancelled the number of Certificates outstanding will decrease resulting in diminished liquidity for the remaining Certificates. A decrease in the liquidity of the Certificates may cause, in turn, an increase in the volatility associated with the price of the Certificates. There may be no secondary market for the Certificates and to the extent that such secondary market becomes illiquid, Holders may have to wait until redemption of the Certificates to realise greater value than their then trading value.

Unpredictable Market Value

The market value of, and expected return on, the Certificates may be influenced by a number of factors, some or all of which may be unpredictable (and which may offset or magnify each other), such as (i) supply and demand for the Certificates, (ii) the development of the value of the Underlying(s) (iii) economic, financial, political and regulatory or judicial events that affect the Issuer, the Guarantor, the Underlying(s) or financial markets generally, (iv) interest and yield rates in the markets generally, (v) the time remaining until the Redemption Date and (vi) the creditworthiness of the Issuer and the Guarantor. Such factors may mean that the trading price of the Certificates is below the Notional Amount. In the secondary market a bid/ask spread will generally apply. Holders who choose to sell their Certificates prior to maturity may receive less than the amount invested.

Effective yield

A Holder's actual yield on the Certificates may be reduced from the stated yield by transaction costs or the tax impact on that Holder of its investment in the Certificates.

Additional Risks

In addition, investors should read the section in the Base Prospectus entitled 'Risk Factors'.

Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters

Switzerland has implemented the Automatic Exchange of Information in Tax Matters ("AEOI") as of 1st January 2017 with the EU and various other countries and is negotiating the introduction of the AEOI with further countries. The website "www.sif.admin.ch" provides an overview of all partner states Switzerland has signed an agreement for the introduction of the AEOI. In this context the EU Savings Tax for Swiss paying agents and the Final Withholding Tax with UK and Austria have been repealed as from 1st January 2017.
